More Revolutionary than Electricity? Learn More: How 5G Will Change the World

Many believe 5G will be as revolutionary as electricity or the automobile, benefiting entire economies and societies. 3GPP is the standards-setting organization behind the plan. It comprises a handful of technology companies that are coming together with many, many more companies who will develop products that implement those technologies.

Is Your EnergyStar Status at Risk?

Newer Buildings Have the Edge

Proven sustainable practices attract tenants and employees who want to be aligned with a building that displays Energy Star certification and demonstrates good stewardship of natural resources. But the EnergyStar score is a mark of relative performance. As more buildings qualify, building with scores of 75-80 may be at risk.

Hospital Waste Recycling Initiative

Kicks Off in the U.S.

The huge volume of discarded healthcare plastics is emerging as a top priority. As much as 60% of plastic waste generated by healthcare facilities is flexible material that cannot be recycled using common technologies. The Healthcare Plastics Recycling Council kicked off a new plan last week to solve the problem.
